This certificate documents completion of an intensive peer learning exercise that constitutes the highest level of certification in the Certificate peer learning programme on Psychological First Aid (PFA) in support of children affected by the humanitarian crisis in Ukraine. Participants developed a detailed case study, provided structured peer feedback to three colleagues using a comprehensive rubric, revised their work based on peer feedback, and engaged in facilitated group discussions. This certification verifies demonstrated competence in applying Psychological First Aid (PFA) principles to support children affected by crisis through rigorous peer assessment and evidence of practical application. It represents verified professional learning aligned with European Qualifications Framework Level 7 standards.
